Paul E. Lederach, Jr. Genealogical Collection

Paul E. Lederach, Jr. (1930-2001) was an architect and genealogist. His entire life he lived on land that was part of the tract on which Andrew and John Lederach and their families settled when they arrived in Pennsylvania in 1717. Paul's father-in-law, Charles M. Talley, was a registered architect. Paul apprenticed to him and became a registered architect. Paul's life-long hobby was researching and compiling the Lederach genealogy. This culminated in the 2000 publication of an extensive Lederach genealogy, of which there is a copy in the MHC library.
